

Recipe Assistant Skill User Documentation

Introduction

Welcome to Recipe Assistant! This skill is designed to help you find and access various components of a recipe. Whether you need instructions, serving size information, a list of ingredients, or everything about a recipe, Recipe Assistant has you covered.

Launching the Skill

To get started, simply say or type into a console:

"Alexa, open Recipe Assistant."

Using the Skill

General Utterances (Returns All Recipe Components)

If you'd like to access all available components of a recipe without specifying one, you can use general utterances:

- "find a recipe using {FOOD}"
- "show me a recipe using {FOOD}"
- "give me a recipe using {FOOD}"

Replace {FOOD} with the specific food item you're interested in.

Example:

- "find a recipe using potatoes."

Note

- {FOOD} can be any food item you have in mind.
- Make sure to speak clearly, and if the skill doesn't understand your request, try rephrasing it.

Specific Utterances (Returns Only the Requested Recipe Component)

Recipe Assistant responds to specific requests to provide detailed information about a recipe. You can use the following specific utterances:

- "find {recipeComponent} for a recipe using {FOOD}"
- "show me {recipeComponent} for a recipe using {FOOD}"
- "give me {recipeComponent} for a recipe using {FOOD}"

Replace {recipeComponent} with one of the following options:

- instructions
- serving size
- ingredients

- everything

Example:

- "Find instructions for a recipe using chicken."

Components List Keywords

To specify a recipe component, you can use various keywords. Here's a list of keywords recognized by Recipe Assistant for each component:

- Instructions List: [instructions, instruction, Instruction, Instructions, steps, Steps]
- Serving Size List: [serving size, Servings, servings, Serving Size]
- Ingredients List: [ingredients, Ingredients, ingredient, Ingredient]
- Everything List: [everything, All, all, Everything]

For example, if you want to find the serving size, you can say: "give me serving size for a recipe using spaghetti."

Conclusion

Recipe Assistant is here to make your cooking experience easier and more enjoyable. Feel free to ask any recipe-related questions, and we'll provide you with the information you need.

Enjoy your cooking with Recipe Assistant!
